TWELVE TEAMS HERE

Miss Ellen Goodnow Awarded Essay Medal.

The annual state high school oratorical and debating contests were held at the University last Thursday and Friday. Twelve high schools, representing the twelve districts into which the state has been divided, were represented.

Thursday night the oratorical contest was held and gold medals were awarded by Professor Mikesell on behalf of the University to Lyon Seamon of the Asbury College Academy and Trimble of Hopkinsville High School. The Lexington Herald cup, which the editor, Mr. Desha Breckinridge, has offered to the high school which is victorious in three successive state oratorical contests, was given to the Asbury College Academy for the coming year.

Friday night the finals in debating were held and Madisonville High School was victor over LaGrange High School. The representatives from Madisonville were Thomas E. Finley, Jr., William Morton, Jr., and George W. Hickman, Jr., from LaGrange, Foster Johnson, Emmitt Hauter, and Virginia Manby. They debated on the question of the retention of the Dillingham Immigration bill, the winning team having the affirmative side.

Harry Giovannelli, editor of the Lexington Leader, presented the winning team with the Leader trophy, which was won last year by the Lexington High School; and Professor Mikesell presented the winners with gold medals on behalf of the University.

Miss Ellen Goodnow, Dayton high school was awarded a gold medal and silver cup by Professor Dantzler on behalf of the University as the winner of the essay contest in which more than 4,000 students took part. The subject of the winning essay was, "John Fox, Jr.—A Criticism of His Work." Maurice Stroud of Owensboro High School was awarded the second prize, a silver medal. His essay was on "Why I Want to go to College."

S. S. Elam, editor of the Kentucky School News, Frankfort, presented a silver medal to Miss Frances Stahel, Margaret Hall, Versailles, for the best essay on "Why Kentucky Stands Forty-fifth Educationally." Miss Stahel's essay was fourth in the state contest, third place going to Miss Pearl Love, Bowling Green.

More than 200 members of the debating and oratorical teams field and track squads, students and faculty of the University and many visitors attended the annual banquet of the Interscholastic League held Friday night in Dicker Hall preceding the debate.

TAU DELTO ALPHA HAS HIGHEST FRAT AVERAGE

Thirty Five Percent of Men Students are Members of Fraternities.

A report of the standing of the various mens fraternities on the campus for the first semester discloses the following facts, (1) that thirty-five per cent of the men in the University are members of social fraternities and that this thirty-five per cent totals 262 men.

The University Y. M. C. A. awards a silver cup to the fraternity making the highest standing for the semester. The Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, having but two members last semester, and knowing that the object of the award was to promote larger group scholastic standing requested that they should not be considered in the contest. Their standing however was 2. It is gratifying to note, on a comparison of the standing of previous semesters, a marked improvement on the whole in the fraternity standing.

MEMORIAL DRIVE.

Next Wednesday will be "Tag Day", by members of the Su-Ky Circle during which time every student will be solicited and asked to contribute at least $10.00 to the Memorial Fund to be used to erect a building on the University campus for those who died in the World War. This amount does not have to be given all together, but a pledge may be made, payable in four quarters.

Thursday will be "clean up day" for those who have not been solicited. A list will be kept and the names checked off as the student donate.

SUCCESSFUL PLAY ENDS LITTLE THEATRE SEASON

Hays and Bicknell Given Special Mention for Excellent Portrayal

Unique in the dramatic history of the University was the mountain folklore play presented Monday afternoon and night in chapel. The play, "The Prophet of the Big Smoky," was a dramatization by Professor Mikesell, based on Charles Craddock's book by the same title, and was presented by a cast composed entirely of mountain students in the University.

Rare insight into the character of the Kentucky mountaineer was displayed both on the part of the producer and of the actors. Special mention should be given J. S. Hays who played the part of the mountain parson, the Phophet and to Paul Bicknell who played the role of the host. Other members of the cast were:

Dorindy Cayce Ann Riddell
Mother Cayce Lenore Patrick
Dancer Katherine Elliott
Rick Tyler Max Howard
Sheriff Ralph H. Woods
Blacksmith Fletcher C. Walker
Obediah Scruggs L. C. Fielder
Hirm Dole O. W. Cain
Nathan Hoodendin D. V. Sublet
Attorney R. T. Johnson
Attorney C. M. Clay Porter
Judge Sidney B. Neul

Especially entertaining was the old fashioned square dance which was executed in the last act by Ann Riddell, Lenor Patrick, Katherine Elliott, Max Howard, Paul Bicknell and S. B. Neul.

An additional feature that contributed much to the success of the performance was the singing of mountain ballads by a troupe of students who came over from Berea College. Among the well known ballads that they sang "Sour Wood Mountain," "Green Willow Tree" and "Little Mohee."

The following students came from Berea: Miss Irma A. Forman, music director, Betty Herndor, Dora Grosscup, Mabel Dhailey, Catherine M. Haley, Gladys Barnes, Jimmie Norton, Florence Baker, Fannie Lou Reed, Charles T. Morgan, Lloyd Rackley, Dan Wintermute, Seth C. White.

This was the last of a very successful series of Little Theatre programs given at the University this season. It differed from the other three pro-

FIRST PERFORMANCE OF 'THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR' PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Mary Lyons, has Strong Support in Leading Role as Madame La Grange

TO PLAY SAT. NIGHT

Elaborate Stage Setting Adds to Production

The best dramatic talent of the University combined under the name of "Strollers," in existence for the past thirteen years, during which time practically every phase of theatrical production has been undertaken was far surpassed last night in the first production of "The Thirteenth Chair" at Woodland Auditorium. The largest audience that has ever witnessed a Stroller performance on the opening night in Lexington was in attendance last night, and was held under tension for two hours during which time Veillers masterful mystery drama was produced with professional acting by University students.

The rising of the curtain at 8:30 last night revealed the most elaborate and richly colored setting ever used in a Stroller production. The scene, an Italian drawing room of the wealthy Crosby family in New York was a deep blue, with grey border, a mantlepiece of stone, heavy oak doors, French windows and a hand painted picture on the right side wall, chairs, devans, upholstered in blue and gold, table lamps tables, all of which were made by the students of the Art Department and students in the woodshop of the mechanical College. The lighting effect was arranged by a switchboard made in the Mechanical College under the supervision of J. W. Owens, senior in that department and was operated by Henry Harper.

The play because of the fact that it was produced in its entirety by the students themselves, reflects creditably upon the University. This work is done apart from their regular courses and is not credited in anyone class or department, and those taking part and giving their time and talent so generously to the success of "The Thirteenth Chair" did so because of the love of it. And it is for no other reason that such appreciation as was expressed after the performance last night was in small only part of the appreciation felt by those witnessing the production.

Mary Lyons who carried the heaviest role in the play interpreted the character as Madam La Grange, an old Irish woman, as perhaps no other student in the University could have done. This difficult role was given her over a hundred applicants who tried for the part, and with the burden of this part and the success of the play within her hands, staged a comeback with the most masterful piece of professional acting ever seen on an amateur stage.

Frances Smith, was charming as Helen O'Neil, because of her dainty

Prominent among those making a fight for the preservation of the federal constitution and the personal and corporate rights guaranteed by it are Charles R. Brock '90, of Denver, and United States Senator A. O. Stanley ex., of Kentucky.

Both are lawyers of renown and, in making addresses and in writings have attracted nation-wide attention to their views and to the menace of recent happenings and tendencies.

"An inactive and complacent majority is permitting an active minority to make dangerous and threatening encroachments upon the fundamentals of our Constitution of Government," said Mr. Brock in an address before the Colorado Bar Association, in Denver.

In Chicago Senator Stanley declared "Wise and patriotic men of all political parties are today vividly conscious of the fact that we stand at this hour at the edge of the abyss, that the abolition of the autonomy of the State means the destruction of the liberty of the citizen and of the life of the Republic."

There is a tendency for men of affairs to replace the professional politician and to seek to end the rule of the propagandist and lobbyist with a private interest not always in accordance with the welfare of the masses.

Lebanon Club on the Job

"We thought you would like to hear that we still have an enthusiastic, energetic alumni club at Lebanon—the members doing everything possible to bring the advantages of the University before the people.

"We were very proud indeed to be able to have Miss Cornell, Head of the Home Economics Department, with us. She made a very appealing talk to the high school students that we feel sure will bring results. In the afternoon she made a splendid address at the Woman's Club."—Susan Spalding, ex-Secretary.

I will be with my mother at 456 Columbia Avenue, Lexington, until after Commencement."—Yours for Kentucky all the time.—Olline C. Wilson '11.

=X+X=

How I wish that I could see one other alumna or alumnus from Kentucky so that I might have some news for the Alumni page. Not one have I seen since I left Kentucky last September. You can well imagine how welcome all news in the Kernel is. One of the secretaries in my Office always reads "Squirrel Food" with much interest. She says that it throws new light on my character—just how, I do not know. Perhaps she sees now why my sense of humor—perverted or otherwise.

Success for the drive I hope that your solicitors get as much joy from it as ours do who are in the midst of the campaign for the 1922 budget for the Young Women's Christian Association of Dubuque. There may have been a reaction after the war but people are now wanting to give where they are convinced.—Julia L. Van-Arsdell '16—Y. W. C. A., Dubuque, Ia.

"In response to the appeals that have reached me, I have sent my contribution to the Memorial Building Campaign Headquarters in Louisville. You may be sure that I shall do all in my power for Alma Mater in this most worthy cause, and my regret is that I am not nearer the scene of action, to make my efforts more effective. FRESHMEN WIN OVER SOPHS BY 2-1 SCORE

Game a Pitching Duel Between Lafferty and Van Arsdale

The Freshman nine defeated the Sophomore baseball team 2-1, Monday afternoon in a closely contested game. The contest was a pitching duel between Lafferty, of the Freshmen, and Van Arsdale, of the Sophs, with the former having a shade the best of the honors.

The Sophs scored in the fourth on a single, a sacrifice, and an error. The Freshmen tied it up again in the same frame when Miller singled, went to third on two infield outs, and made a clean steal of home, while Van Arsdale was napping.

In their half of the sixth, the Freshmen scored the winning run with two out, when Willer made his second hit of the game, took second when "Van" walked Lafferty, scoring on Leach's single. This was the second hit of the game for Leach also.

Lafferty pitched an excellent game, but his work scarcely surpasses that of Van Arsdale who also turned in a creditable workout.

By winning this game the Freshmen have gained undisputed possession of first place in the class race.

The score :	R.	H.	E.
Fresh men	2	5	1
Sophomores	1	4	3

Batteries: Lafferty and Leach; Van Arsdale and welsensberger.

The standing:

	W.	L.	Perct.
Freshmen	3	0	1,000
Sophomores	2	1	666.
Juniors	1	2	333.
Seniors	0	3	000.

The Seniors forfeited to the Juniors Tuesday afternoon.

Dean Melcher has requested that everyone be present at chapel, Tuesday, May 16, when awards will be made to the two fraternities having the highest scholastic standing for last semester. Another feature of this chapel will be the introduction to the University of the newly-elected president and vice-president of the Student Council, Sam Ridgeway and Otis Jones.

The fraternity having the highest standing will be awarded a large silver cup which has been given by the University Y. M. C. A. The second award is to be a Kentucky banner, given thru the agency of Dean Melcher. The presentation of the awards will probably be done by President McVey.

At a meeting of the Su-Ky Circle held in the journalism room Tuesday afternoon the following officers were elected: Arthur Bradshaw, president; Sneed Yeager, vice-president; Margaret Lavin, secretary; Dorothy Blatz, assistant secretary; and Carl Reifkine, treasurer.

Arthur Bradshaw took charge of the meeting immediately and discussion of the part that the Circle is to take in the Memorial drive on the campus next week was held.

REMEMBER MOTHER

Sunday, May 14, has been set aside as "Mothers Day" on which day every one honors their living mother by wearing a colored flower; and a white one if she has died. Students are reminded not to forget their mother on this day even tho they may be far away from this loved one. There are many ways of expressing this affection or honor, by sending flowers, or writing to her, the latter probably being the most effective.

All that I am my mother made me.—John Quincey Adams.

All that I am, or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother.—Abraham Lincoln.

It is the general rule that all superior inherit the elements of their superiority from their mothers.—Michelet.

A father may turn his back on his child; two brothers and sisters become inveterate enemies; husbands may desert their wives and wives their husbands. But a mother's love endures through all; in good repute, in bad repute, in the face of the world's condemnation, a mother still loves on, and still hopes that the child may turn from his evil ways and repent, and she can never be brought to think him unworthy.—Washington Irving.

IMPORTANT

The second annual Engineer's Day will be observed by the students and faculty of the College of Engineering during the afternoon and evening of May 26. All engineering classes will be dismissed that afternoon and visitors will be received and shown thru the various departments by the students.

In the evening from 8 to 12 a masquerade dance will be given in Dicker Hall for engineering students. The dance is to be given under the auspices of the American Association of Engineers. Plans have been completed for the erection of a pavillion adjacent to Dicker Hall, so that sufficient room may be had for the dancers. Last year the Engineers Ball was one of the best dances of the social season, and there is every reason to believe that the one this year will be even better.

SCOTTI OPERA CO. AT AUDITORIUM MAY 19

The Scotti Grand Opera Company, booked for matinee and night performances at Woodland Park Auditorium, Friday, May 19, will have in the "L' Dracolo" cast, Antonio Scotti, Italo Picchi, Louis D'Angelo, Armand Toket yan, Clara Burns, Francesca Peralta, Henrietta Walefield, Giordano Paltrinieri. All well known singers in the grand opera world and some have been leaders for several seasons. The headliner of the bill, of course, is Scotti. He has for many years been considered a leading baritone of America. He has the most refined art. He is a great singer and a successful actor. He has no equal and few men could be regarded as a rival to him as a singing actor. He has put in many years of hard study with Madam Trifari-Paganini. He is thankful to her that she first taught him the true range of his voice, where to place it and how to breathe because when it came to acting as well as singing, he no longer had to think how he was going to produce certain tones because they came naturally. It was then that he studied acting, and followed the best models, Salvini, Novelli and others who were eminent players on the boards.

The second opera to be given at night will be "Pagliacci" and in the afternoon the attraction will be "La Boheme." Tickets are now on sale at the Lexington College of Music and may be ordered my mail of by telephoning 639-X.

Miss Margie McLaughlin, has a block of tickets for matinee and night. The seats are in the balcony and may be purchased at $2.20 each, for matinee or night. A special price of $2.75 has been made for faculty and students for the matinee for the same seats down stairs that will be sold to the general public for $4.40.

"PEELING OF T BELLE"

Just now and then the Poet laughed
I do not care for verse,
And thus it is-my better half
Is sometime just a curse.

The Hackwork and the many sins
Half finished in the world,
Are like a stevedores about
To make her tresses curl.

She girds her-hush! with corsets stout,
My arms around her waist
Blush rosy with the dawn,
Are like a stevedores about
An ironbound packing case.

Her cheeks, so yellow in the night
Blush rosy with the dawn,
She slips from bed at peep of light
And puts the roses on.

Her eyebrows, yellow as the flowers
That perfume garden air,
Are blackened by the very powers
That also do her hair.

Take It From The Air

NOT only music, but news, speeches, messages of every sort, are today being picked out of the air.

"How has this come about?" we ask.

The new impetus given to radio development may be definitely associated with the development of the high power vacuum tube, for that made broadcasting possible. And the power tube originated from a piece of purely theoretical research, which had no connection with radio.

When a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company found that electric current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum and could be varied according to fixed laws, he established the principle of the power tube and laid the foundation for the "tron" group of devices.

These devices magnify the tiny telephone currents produced by the voice and supply them to the antenna, which broadcasts the messages. At the receiving end, smaller "trons", in turn, magnify the otherwise imperceptible messages coming to them from the receiving antenna.

Great accomplishments are not picked out of the air. Generally, as in this case, they grow from one man's insatiable desire to find out the "how" of things.

Scientific research discovers the facts. Practical applications follow in good time.

ENTERTAINING OUR SUCCESSORS

The University and the people of the State may well congratulate themselves on the success of the High School Tournament which has just closed. In this tournament we saw on a large scale the work of the state university as it has been developed in America. The University belongs to the people, and it is expected that it should serve the entire citizenship. In pursuance of this plan it has reached out into the secondary schools and has established points of contact with the remotest towns and villages of the State. Hundreds of students are making trips to state institutions to see for themselves what opportunities are open to them, and to take the news back to their homes.

Such tournaments as the one just closed here will advertise this University, and bring a high type of students here, but it is not on purely selfish grounds that we justify such entertainments. The tournaments cultivate desire for higher education, and knowledge of the means whereby such education may be gained.

The greatest asset any country can possess is an enlightened and liberal citizenship. This can only be attained by full utilization of our higher methods of learning. In America the aristocratic institutions which administered to a select few have given place to the great universities which seek to get in closer touch with the life of the people. We are proud that the University of Kentucky is able to take a leading part in the promotion of education. Our State must not remain forty-fifth in the educational scale of American commonwealths.

A GOOD BEGINNING

This month marks the end of the first year of the work of the Men's Student Government. The result has been on the whole satisfactory. When the plan was proposed some misgivings were expressed as to radical and dangerous steps which might be taken by such a council. Such misgivings have so far been entirely unfounded. The present Council deserves praise for what it has not done as well as for what it has done. It has been under conservative leadership, and it has undertaken nothing that has not been in the nature of sound and constructive action. No wild theories for sudden reforms and radical changes, and no faculty-pupil controversies have developed. The ability to act calmly and deliberately is the best asset of any democracy, and especially a college democracy which attracts so much attention.

The progress made has been sure, and it has also been slow. "Rome was not built in a day." Every step the Council took this year was an experiment. There were no precedents to guide it through the narrow straits of Student Government, flanked on one side by the jagged rock of faculty control and on the other by the shoals of radical student action. It will be easy for next year's Council to take for granted precedents set by this year's Council, and in turn make new extensions of power.

Control of the social affairs of the University has passed quietly and easily into the hands of the representatives. The added efficiency gained by this improvement is worth the trouble. Collection of class dues has been facilitated. Better standards in regard to hazing are being developed, and steps to stamp out cheating are being taken. The Council gave cooperation to student activities, especially in the fight for more appropriation for the University. In addition to these things it has revised the constitution and has had these revisions adopted. The students may well say "It is a good start."

The University has just witnessed the election of executives for the second year of the Council. In other columns of this issue appear the results of this election and the votes by which these men were elected prove the rapidity with which the petty politics of the University, a thing that has long been practised, is dying out. We note that the support of the men from a particular college, for executive offices, by men of that college will soon be a thing of the past and that we are growing towards the fact that that ability rather than popularity is necessary to accomplish the principles for which the Student Council was established.

STAND BY MEMORIAL

Every student in the University has been asked to pledge himself or herself to assist in erecting a Memorial Building in honor of Kentucky's men who fell in the World War. The amount asked and the terms upon which the payments may be made are so liberal that an over subscription should be the result of the campaign. We believe that every student will have enough pride and respect for those who made the supreme sacrifice that within the next year this proposed Memorial will be a realization.

Jack Dempsey has gone to France to look for a fight. Jack wasn't so eager along about 1918.

With the New York Police to put him in jail, and Colonel Morrow to brand him as the greatest murderer in history, General Semenov cannot deny that he has been given a warm reception.

It is our secret opinion that Sir A. Conan Doyle will not see so many "spirits" in America now that the Volstead act is being enforced.

Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. News

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of the University joined in giving a Blue Ridge program in the recreation hall of Patterson Hall Sunday at 6:30 p. m. At this meeting Kathryn Reed told of the girls' conference at Blue Ridge last June and C. V. Watson told of the boys' conference. Both said that the ten days spent at Blue Ridge had been equal in value to a semester in college. Lantern slides of Blue Ridge scenery and conference speakers were shown at the end of the program.

The new cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. after meeting several times with the retiring cabinet have taken over the work of the organization. The various committees have been appointed and are beginning work. The new cabinet wishes the cooperation of every member and will appreciate any suggestions as to how best to make the Y. W. C. A. serve the University. At the meeting Sunday evening May 14, Edna Snapp, retiring president of the Y. W. C. A., and Lucile Youngblut, undergraduate representative, will give an account of the National Conference which they recently attended in Little Rock Ark. Things of vital importance as discussed at the convention will be brought out: what the Y. W. is for, its extent and its influence.

Will any girl who can make posters and is willing to use that talent in putting the work of the Y. W. C. A. before the public see Affie Hammond, chairman of publicity committee?

AGRICULTURE NEWS.

Extension work will be carried on in twenty-five counties of the State this week by specialists from the College of Agriculture. Co-operative lamb marketing, food problems, Junior agricultural clubs, potato and tomato problems, poultry problems and clothing for farm work will be some of the subjects discussed by these specialists for the betterment of the rural population and their crops and income. Jefferson county farmers will have special help with their fruit production problems, while dairymen will come for special attention in two other counties. Swine feeding and drainage problems together with soils and farm management will complete the schedule for this week's work.

SOPH. GIRLS GIVE MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Co-eds Dance Around May Pole; Martha Pate is Crowned Queen

The girls of the sophomore gymnasium class under the supervision of Miss Sarah Blanding, revived the custom of May Day festival at the University and gave a May Pole dance on the green in front of the Main Building, Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The girls of the class elected Martha Pate, May Queen, and Luella Cravens, Marjory Riddle, Mary Colvin and Joeline Webb, attendants, at elections held Monday and Tuesday.

The procession marched two abreast from the girl's gymnasium to the Queen's throne and stood at attention while the Queen and attendants passed between the files to the throne, where the Queen was crowned by Luella Cravens, maid of honor.

The girls skipped informally to their places at the poles and at the sound of a whistle began to skip and entwine the long streamers. There were five poles, a large one with blue and white streamers and four smaller ones with lavender and white, pink and white, green and white, and yellow and white streamers respectively.

Martha Pate, the Queen, is one of the most attractive and popular girls on the campus. She was elected sophomore representative in the popularity contest last fall and is sponsor for the Cadet Band. She wore a sheer white organdy and carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The four attendants were also attractively dressed in white and carried arm bouquets. The girls who danced around the poles wore white middie suits.

Sam Ridgway, of the College of Engineering, and Otis Jones, of the College of Arts and Sciences, were elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the Men's Student Council at the election held last Friday.

Both Ridgway and Jones have served on the Council, having been elected last year as class representatives from their respective colleges, and are well acquainted with the duties they are to perform.

Ridgway is the second president of the Council having succeeded J. W. Crenshaw, also of the College of Engineering. He was elected by a thirty-two votes majority, the total number of votes being 235. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and captain-elect of the 1922 Basket Ball Team.

MADISONVILLE HIGH WINS

Professor Dantzer presided as toastmaster and introduced the various speakers. "Daddy" Boles, director of athletics, introduced the competing teams. He said that the University does not hold the tournament each year to attract athletes to our school but to help them to become more interested in the University.

As each speaker was introduced "Red" Hukle led the "rahs". Professor Mikesell, director of debate in the league, urged the defeated teams not to be discouraged but to return next year with the determination to win.

Prof. Wellington Patrick told of the organization of the league nine years ago and outlined some of the things which those supporting it are striving to accomplish. He said that 125 high schools were represented in the debating and oratorical contest now, as compared with Seventeen contestants seven years ago.

Short addresses of welcome were also made by Dean Jewell, Dean Melcher, Professor Gillis, and Prof. George Roberts of the college of Agriculture, C. V. Watson, student manager of the tournament, and "Red" Hukle welcomed the visitors for the Su-Ky circle.

personal appearance and girlish interpretation of the role with which she was entrusted. She is a freshman in the University and veteran Strollers are looking forward with great expectation for her future contribution to the organization.

John Albright carried the leading male role with the same forceful acting with which he enacted one of the leading roles in last seasons production. More action was centered about him than perhaps any other one character in the play.

Eleanor Morse, who in the role of Mrs. Crosby received applause upon her entrance because of her handsome personal appearance, soft, well modulated voice, and refined interpretation middle aged woman she represented, her part was particularly pleasing. She was so perfectly at home on the stage and so entirely away from anything pertaining to the usual amateur touch, that many persons predict for her a brilliant stage career if she would so choose to enter this vocation.

Kitty Conroy, who delighted Lexington audiences last year in the delightful role of "Tweenie" in "The Admirable Crichton" appeared last night, but in a decidedly different role. Such a complete change in character parts, requires one who is particularly endowed with unusual dramatic ability to interpret so thoroughly as Miss Conroy did two roles so entirely different.

Among other prominent actors, lack of space preventing a writeup of each were Dan Morse, William Finn, Edgar Gans, Tom Brooks, Ann Hickman, Mary Peterson, Nan Chanault, William Moore, and John Whittaker who handled the part entrusted creditably.

Saturday

Saturday May 13 the Centre Colonels are scheduled to cross bats with Kentucky Wildcats for the second time this season. The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. on Stoll Field.

The Wildcats are scheduled to arrive home from the Southern trip Friday evening. While away on this trip, the Wildcats have not always come out on the long side of the score card, but these games have served as excellent training for the coming conflict. The fielding which was a little loose in the former Centre game has shown improvement, and the men will, in all probability, be in excellent condition for the Centre contest.

Captain "Bud" Slomer is again back in harness, having pitched against the University of Cincinnati and Vanderbilt on the southern trip. "Bud" will in all probability, start against the Colonels in Saturday's game.

On April 22 the Wildcats defeated the "Mystery Nine" 10 to 9, Snatching victory from defeat by a one point margin in a game mainly featured by loose fielding. The Colonels will come up with the determination to even up the defeat of the last game and can be depended upon to put up a keen struggle. The Wildcats on the other hand are just as determined that their opponents will again taste defeat.

The probable lineup for Saturday's game is as follows: Kentucky: Brown 1b; King ss; Pergrem 3b; Sauer lf; Jones cf; Beam rf; Pribble c; Slomer p; Burnham 2b.

Centre: Murphy rf; Covington 2b; Green cf; Hunter ss; Carter 1b; Hays lf; Lemon 3b; Gregor c; Moran p. Umpire Pat Denreux.

Action in Judge Lafferty's
Mock Court

As a result of having failed to appear at the First Baptist Church, Lexington, Ky., April 13, 1922, Henrietta Zander has entered suit in the University Circuit Court against Bim Cump alleging breach of promise of marriage. Judge W. T. Lafferty is presiding over the court.

Miss Zander alleges that the defendant, Bim Cump, promised to appear at the First Baptist Church on the above named date where they were to have been united in marriage, and, that she was there waiting, ready and willing to marry and by his failure to appear she was greatly humiliated and that she has been damaged by his non-appearance to the extent of 1,000,000.

Following the failure of the defendant to appear at his wedding and to carry out his promise Miss Zander immediately entered suit in Judge Lafferty's court filing the above charges and asking that she be allowed the above amount as damage and on last Thursday the case came up for trial. An issue was reached, a jury impaneled and the case continued until Thursday night May 25.

Miss Zander has as her attorneys P. E. Ashby, W. H. Smith and J. S. Caudill and for the defendant the attorneys are Berl Boyd and J. B. Watkins. The jury is composed of both young women and young men students of the University and the case has caused much interest on the campus as the principals in the case are well known here. Miriam Seegar has the role of Miss Zander and G. W. Muth is the Bim Gummy of the case.

The Athletic Council agreed to add another $500 to the $1,000 promised to complete the proposed new cinder track if the trip was called off. The $1,500 promised by the Athletic Council and the $1,000 which the Su-Ky Circle has promised to raise, will pay for the proposed track which will be 30 feet wide and 220 yards long. One team everybody can make

AFTER the big game, if you don't need a box of voice lozenges there's something wrong. A hoarse voice is evidence that you were covering your position on the bleachers. The harder the game the harder it ought to be to talk afterwards. Your "Ataboy" and "Line it out" buck up a fagged nine—and so your shouts give you the right to rejoice in the victory, because they helped win it.

This spectacle of a grandstand full of men fighting for their team is one aspect of a very splendid sentiment—college spirit.

When you show college spirit you are doing a fine thing for your college, a fine thing for the men around you, but a finer thing for yourself. You are developing a quality which, if carried into the business world, will help you to success.

The same spirit which keeps you cheering through a rainy afternoon will in after life keep you up all night to put through a rush job for the boss.

The same spirit which makes you stand by your teams through thick and thin will find you loyal to your shop or office, always ready with a shoulder to the wheel—even if it isn't your own particular wheel—giving suggestion and active help and a word of good cheer, once again earning your right to rejoice in the victory.

In business as in college make it a good, snappy "Yes, team!"

PI Kappa Alpha Dance

The members and pledges of Omega chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity were hosts to one of the most elaborate and enjoyable dances of the year Saturday evening at the Lafayette Hotel.

Unique and picturesque decorations adorned the hall room. All the side-lights were covered with parchment shades, and lights shining through, showing the fraternity coat of arms hand painted on each. The fruit frappe was served from a mountain spring arranged in a corner of the ballroom. The background was a mountain, painted on canvas most effectively by Wycliffe Moore, and at the foot of the mountain the spring bubbled forth and formed a brooklet running across a bit of green sward made of real Bluegrass sod.

Original programs enclosed in small shields bearing the fraternity coat of arms with rings and leather ribbons to match were the favors for the girls. The Kentucky Six orchestra furnished the music, about one hundred and fifty guests were present.

The hosts were:

Active Chapter—Hatty L. Petrey, Robert L. Sanders, W. I. Moore, John C. Riley Jr., Berl Boyd, Robert E. Davis, Lowell H. Truitt, Wheaton R. Ashby, Marlon T. Brooks, Earle H. Bourland, Maurice R. GEORGIANS DEFEAT CATS IN CONSECUTIVE GAMES ON SOUTHERN BLEACHERS

Enthusiasm Runs High As Bulldogs Score Over
Opponents

SCORES ARE CLOSE

Sensational Fielding in First Game

Athens, Ga., May 8.—The University of Kentucky "Wildcats" lost to the Georgia Bulldogs in an 11-inning battle at Sanford Field this afternoon. The sole marker came over after two batsmen had been retired.

Clark, first up, singled to left for the fourth hit of the game, Eldridge sacrificed him to second, McWhorter struck out, Allen singled over second, scoring Clark. The hit that sent over the run was close to a putout. The "Flying Dutchman" at second made a leaping stab knocking down the drive, the ball rolling to left center. Sale for the Bulldogs, was invincible in the pinches, scattering the four hits in the sixth, seventh, ninth and tenth innings. Fleahman, Kentucky southpaw, also twirled a great game.

The game was featured by sensational fielding by both teams. Kentucky's only error was made by Underwood in the sixth on a hard hit grounder over third and was followed by a snappy double play, Burnham to King to Brown.

The afternoon was ideal, old-soil favoring the contestants with better than 90 in the shade. Sanford field was filled with rooters, numbering more than 2,600. Students and townsmen. The R. O. T. C. band played Bulldog songs throughout the game. Pep and enthusiasm ran high, six cheer leaders keeping the fans in a constant uproar. Sanford Field is perhaps the finest equipped college ball park in the south, having accommodations for seating 5,000 fans. An electric score board gives batters, balls, strikes and outs.

Frost and Stokes will be the opposing hurlers in the last game of the series tomorrow. Score:

Wildcats Outhit and Outfield
Commodores; Fail to Outscore Them.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 5.—The University of Kentucky Wildcats went down in defeat at the hands of Vanderbilt Commodores this afternoon by the score of 10 to 7.

Two bases on balls and three hits yielded Vanderbilt four runs in the third. A home run by Brown scored another in the seventh. Two bases on balls, an error, a hit, and a home run by McCullough yielded four more in the eighth.

A base on balls, sacrifice hit, and a two bagger gave Kentucky one run in the fifth and three errors and four hits gave them six in the ninth. Brown, for Vanderbilt, made a great running catch of what seemed to be a home run of the bat of Sauer in the ninth with the bases loaded. Had Sauer's effort scored the fight would still be on.

Slomer was hit by a pitched ball in the sixth which cut down his effectiveness. Score:
